PS

“ I love you like a sister and truly know losing a parent is difficult. I know your dad is not in pain any more.

Grief is an emotion we face at some point in this earthly life. We don't want to be separated from the ones we love. Jesus understands the sorrow our human hearts experience at the thought of separations. He explains to his followers that the grief they feel in his absent is to be followed by a joy, that would never cease. Christ gives us hope with a knowledge that we will see Him again one day and eternal happiness will replace all the sorrows. We are spirits on earth.
